In Spring 1990, BSU took a wooden cross and placed it at an overlook in Taylor County around the Saloma Road area, known as Little Cincinnati.

Their purpose was to show the different aspects of Christianity represented in the BSU. The group took representatives of athletic groups of the College.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW — EVENTS

Another Start

Campbellsville College's freshman class and dormitory occupancy are two "bright spots" for fall 1989 enrollment, according to Dr. Ken Winters, president of the College.

Winters said the freshman class is up 46 students over fall 1988. The freshman class of 221 students is an increase of 26 percent over last fall. Transfer students show an increase of 21 percent over last fall also, he said.

Winters said about 300 students are living in the College's three dorms. South Hall, the men's dormitory, is at capacity, and the west wing of North Hall, a conference center, has been filled with men.

Dorm occupancy is 18 percent more than last fall, Winters said.

Winters said a target of 800 students was set, and the College is on the way to achieving that goal. Head count of students is now at 763, but there are classes that are being planned off campus which haven't started. Three of these classes, which should begin in October, will be at Fruit of the Loom plants in Campbellsville and Greensburg, and other classes are in the planning stages at other sites.

Winters said the new football team has had a "solid effect" on the increased enrollment. He also said a greater awareness in Kentucky for continuing education has reflected in more students at the College.

He also said there is an excitement on campus that has been translated to the students and their friends at home. He said the community is also talking positively about Campbellsville College, and more students are looking at Campbellsville College seriously.

at Registration

Winters said the business area at the College has had greater visibility and more students have been taking those courses. He said more persons are recognizing Campbellsville College as an "academically strong institution."

Winters said the College can handle another freshman class like this one without new physical improvements. He would like to see enrollment in four digits (1,000-1,200) by the fall of 1991.

He said dorm space would need to be increased if enrollment goes to 1,000. Winters said if next year's freshman class is equal to or greater than this one, the College would immediately need to start looking at some physical changes.

FRESHMAN WEEK '89

Freshman Week is the first full week of classes. This year it was from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1. Freshman Week is sponsored by the senior class to initiate the freshman class into the ritual of college life. Everyone had a chance to participate. A different activity was scheduled for each day.

Monday there was a Freshman/Senior Pizza Party. The Freshman Male Review was Tuesday. Wednesday night, everyone came out for Family Feud, modeled after the popular television game show. The Junior Olympics and Slave Auction were Thursday night. Friday was Slave Day where the freshmen did the crazy things dictated by their senior "slaveowners."

It was a fun-filled week which gave the freshmen a chance to get to know the other students at the College and, for some, it was the beginning of new friendships.

Homecoming '89

College —

'The Time of Your Life'

It was the "time of your life" for Campbellsville College as Homecoming '89 Oct. 14 celebrated its Homecoming theme "College — The Time Of Your Life."

For Penny Stephens it was time for the College's first married Homecoming Queen. Mrs. Stephens was Phi Beta Lambda's candidate and was crowned at half-time.

For the Tiger football team, it was a loss, but a time for feeling proud about playing well against Cumberland College, who is ranked 25th in the nation. The score: Campbellsville, 10, and Cumberland, 14.

"I felt the game showed Campbellsville College football is here to stay and competitive in the conference," said Coach Ron Finley.

"The whole team worked hard. They never quit. I'm so proud of the way they hung in there," Finley said. Cumberland College was undefeated last year and was in the playoffs. Most of their offensive players were back also, Finley said.

For Campbellsville College alumni, it was a time to relive college days as they attended the alumni banquet, alumni luncheon and division receptions. All over campus, alumni renewed contact with former fellow students and former professors and staff.

Sigma Zeta, the science and math club, also had a winning part of College life as their float was chosen the grand master float for the second year in a row. First runner-up was the art club, Alpha Rho Tau, and second runner-up was the Baptist Student Union.

Mrs. Stephens reigned over an estimated crowd of 1,150 at the football game. She was escorted by her husband, Vince.

Her court included: Jennifer Haselwood, first runner-up, representing the senior class and escorted by Billy Gregory.

Debbie Martin, second runner-up representing the Baptist Student Union and escorted by Ronnie Ward of Bowling Green, and Chris Casey, third runner-up, representing Stapp Hall and escorted by John Trout. The freshman attendant was Melissa Hadley escorted by Kirby Smith.

The highlight of Friday night's events was the appearance by Byron Crawford, "Kentucky Columnist," for "The Courier-Journal" newspaper in Louisville.

Crawford told about 425 persons stories about growing up in the small town of Stanford, KY. He told jokes about his family and people he had met.

Crawford also told the audience, "We don't always have to pull the billfold out to tell people how much we love them."

He said he hoped his children will remember the small things, the smiles and hugs. His daughter, Andrea, accompanied him to the banquet. He also has three sons.

Crawford said the state and this area have a "vivid" personality with "colorful characters." Crawford writes about people in the column for the "Courier."

Special music was presented by Dr. Ken

Martin, assistant professor of music, and Doug Broome, director of technical and media services for the College's Montgomery Library. Nevalyn Moore, instructor of music, accompanied them on piano, and Kathy Price provided piano music for the dinner.

Rick Wigginton, president of the Student Government Association, introduced the Homecoming Queen candidates at the banquet.

The week's events included different daily activities including sports day with a volleyball game won by Billy Gregory's team, jams day (although the temperature was 45 degrees and jams were worn over sweats), slob day when people dressed like one might see during finals' week, a scavenger hunt and spirit day when dress was maroon, gray and white.

Lawrence Hall of Elizabethtown, chairman of the board of trustees, was grand marshal of the parade. A Homecoming dance was Saturday night with a concert by Brad Cundiff, son of Dr. and Mrs. David Cundiff, Sunday afternoon.

Cindy Crowder was co-chairman of Homecoming and said, "Reflecting back, the week was a great success. Everyone worked hard and was involved as much as possible. Campbellsville found out how College is the time of your life."

Jana Moore was also co-chairman, and Homecoming activities were coordinated by Mike Crain, alumni director.

1990 Valentine Pageant

Pound Crowned Queen

When all the factors were weighed, Cindy Pound, a freshman from Granville, Ohio, was named 1990 Valentine queen by a panel of four judges.

Pound was selected from among ten candidates, who represented various organizations on campus. The contestant were judges on talent presentations, judges' interviews and theme interpretation (composure and appearance).

Cindy represented North Hall dormitory and will now represent Campbellsville College in the Mountain Laurel Festival pageant in Pineville, KY.

Not only did Cindy win the crown, but she also won the talent category. She performed an excerpt from the play "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Other winners in the pageant were Sherry Braynt, representing Sigma Zeta, first runner-up; Melissa Hadley, from the freshman class, second runner-up; and Kathleen Bush, Stapp Hall representative, Miss Congeniality. Melvin Litteral, Julie Tinsley's escort, was named Best Escort.

The pageant was sponsored by the Student Government Association. Sharon Thomas and Cindy Crowder coordinated the program, which was themed "A Night of Fantasy."

Neikirk Selected As

Miss Masculinity 1990

Student Government Association sponsored a 1990 "Miss Masculinity" Pageant, Feb. 27. Pageant proceeds benefitted the "Adopt-A-Room" Program, started by Dr. Ken Winters to obtain funds to refurbish dorm rooms. The amount of money raised was $145.

Peggy Aaron, financial aid secretary, was mistress of ceremonies. Each club and organization, residence hall, administrative office and faculty division was invited to sponsor a candidate for the title.

Children's Drama

Aesop's Fables

"What is a fable? It's a little different from the stories that mom and dad read to you at bedtime. We have taken the old fables, rewritten them, perked them up a little bit, added a little rock, a little roll and a lot of fun, so what we have is a "fable."

"You know, fables are wonderful things. They make you laugh, they make you cry or even wonder. A fable is really a story with a moral or lesson at the end. Our fables are just the same, except, well, just a little different. And another thing about fables is that the people in them are animals!" said Russ Mobley, assistant professor of speech and drama.

Fall Drama

The Importance of Being Earnest

Who is Ernest Worthing?

That is the question pondered by both Cecily and Gwendolyn as both are engaged to the man. This is just one part of the plot of the play "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde staged Nov. 2-4 in the College Theater.

This play displays a classical case of mistaken identity. Gwendolyn and Cecily's fascination with the name Ernest lead Jack and Algernon to both pretend their name is Ernest. However, as the play unfolds, it is discovered that no one is named Ernest.

Therefore, Gwendolyn and Cecily decide they are engaged to no one. The problems are added to by the senile Dr. Chausable, the long-winded Lady Bracknell, and the uptight Miss Prism.

The entire play is concerned with mocking the English Victorian period. The set, costumes, and actions were a parody of that time period.

AWARDS, HONORS & GRADUATION

Mohedano, Wigginton Honored As Mr., Miss Campbellsville

Rick Wigginton and Angela Mohedano

Angela Dawn Mohedano says she's glad she chose Campbellsville College.

Rick Wigginton says he has grown while a student at Campbellsville College and has gained a lot of leadership skills.

Mrs. Mohedano and Wigginton have been chosen by faculty and staff as Mr. and Miss Campbellsville College.

Mrs. Mohedano of Campbellsville, daughter of Don and Mary Ann Weakley of Springfield, said the faculty and staff are personal at Campbellsville College and care about each student.

"The administration is friendly and supportive like the rest of the faculty and staff when they give support and extra help when needed to any student," she said.

Mrs. Mohedano said it was the recommendations of her home church (Springfield Baptist) that led her to Campbellsville College. She says it has lived up to its name.

"It (being chosen) means a great deal to me, and I really appreciate it. It is a privilege and an honor to be chosen by the faculty at Campbellsville College," she said.

Wigginton lives in Princeton and is the son of Douglas and Judy Wigginton, Route 1, Box 32-A, Princeton.

"It's a great honor," he said about being named Mr. Campbellsville College. "During my years at Campbellsville College, I've tried to be very active in college life. Now it will be even easier to be a supportive alumnus, having received this distinctive award."

Mrs. Mohedano and Wigginton will graduate May 12. Mrs. Mohedano will receive a bachelor of science in psychology and sociology.

Mrs. Mohedano has received many honors while at Campbellsville College including the National Collegiate Social Science Award from the United States Achievement Academy; "Outstanding Young Women of America," "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" and Valentine Queen for the College in 1987.

She has also been involved in many clubs and organizations at Campbellsville College such as Baptist Student Union member 1985-88, BSU summer missionary in 1986, BSU council member 1986-87, Baptist Young Women's council member 1986-87 and Student Government Association cabinet member and chaplain 1988-89 and chief justice in 1988.

She was also the student representative for the social sciences division from 1987 until 1989 and on the financial aid committee from 1989 until 1990.

She has worked on and off campus while attending Campbellsville and met her husband, Corky, while a student here. Mohedano is productions manager of the Campbellsville College TV Studio.

Mrs. Mohedano won several scholarships while at Campbellsville College. She is a 1985 graduate of Washington County High School.

Wigginton said the music area was the most important to him while a student here. He will graduate with a bachelor of music in church music with a voice emphasis.

He has been in several activities while at Campbellsville College including: Jazz Band, Concert Band, Collegiate Chorale, Concert Chorus, Handbell Choir, Campbellsville College Singers and Carpenter's Apprentice.

He is president of the SGA, has been president of Church Music Conference for the past three years and recently portrayed "Mordred" in "Camelot" at Campbellsville College.

He is the residence hall director of North Hall and is minister of music and youth at First Baptist Church, Burkesville.

Wigginton served on the search committee for executive vice president at Campbellsville College and on the development committee to select the recipient of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation "Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award."

Wigginton is a 1985 graduate of Caldwell County High School.

Sears-Roebuck Foundation Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award

Dr. Frank Cheatham, professor of math and computer science and coordinator of the academic computing program, was awarded the 1989 Sears-Roebuck Foundation "Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award."

Cheatham, who's taught at the college since 1973, won a certificate and a check for $1,000. President Dr. Ken Winters presented the award to him.

Cheatham is one of nearly 700 faculty members being recognized nationally by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation for resourcefulness and leadership as a private college educator.

The Sears-Roebuck Award is administered nationally by the Stamford, Connecticut-based Foundation for Independent Higher Education and Kentucky Independent College Fund.

Dr. Bill Bennett is not always dressed like this. Portraits were taken on Halloween and Dr. Bennett taught his classes in full costume. The outfit did serve a purpose — Bennett was teaching about discrimination against people who look different.

PEOPLE

Class of 1990

Freshman Week . . . Homecoming . . . Senior Awards Day . . . Caps and Gowns . . . Job Interviews . . . Student Teaching . . . Writing Resumes . . . Ordering Invitations . . . All these kept 1990 graduating seniors busy their last year. This was the smallest graduating class for many years at Campbellsville College due to a small freshman class that entered four years ago. Senior class officers were: Cindy Crowder, president, and Debbie Martin, vice president. Both participated in welcoming new students during new student orientations in June and July. Freshman Week was the first major event sponsored by the senior class. The nightly events included a pizza party, male review, family feud, junior Olympics and student auction.

Senior Awards Day was a meaningful day with much pomp and circumstance this year. Seniors are recognized for achievements and accomplishments and presented academic and special awards.

During the commencement on May 12, the senior class president represented the senior class in accepting the charge by the College president. There was a mixture of tears and joy as the seniors marched from the auditorium with diploma in hand, closing one chapter of their lives, beginning another.

— Sylvia Morris, Senior Class Advisor

Dr. Ken Winters, in his charge to the graduates, said they are not in a new relationship to life and Campbellsville College. "I pray you will live serviceable lives in peace and happiness," he said.

"Wherever you go and whatever you do, carry the name of Campbellsville College boldly and with pride," he said.

Cindy Crowder, right, 1990 Senior Class president, answered the charge and reminded the students of what they had accomplished as part of Campbellsville College's "family." She thanked those who touched their lives.

More Than A Basketball Goal

Phil Cunningham is a senior business major and math minor. He is well-known on campus as a starter on the Tiger basketball team. Phil not only plays basketball, but also serves as a referee and umpire in various community leagues and tournaments.

Phil transferred to Campbellsville College three years ago from Kentucky Wesleyan College, where he played collegiately for two years. In 1987, Phil and his teammates won the NCAA Division II national championship for Kentucky Wesleyan.

He transferred to Campbellsville to play for a coach he admires — his father, Coach Lou Cunningham. Phil said that his experience at Kentucky Wesleyan helped him mature, and he is glad he got that opportunity. Phil said that he does not believe he could have played for Campbellsville when he first graduated from high school. How does Phil feel about playing under his father? He said, "It has been fun."

Although he enjoys playing for his father, Phil said that the father-son situation has created some additional pressures. He and his father are conscious of what others think; both try to ensure that no partiality is shown. Phil also finds criticism of his father hard to withstand. After all, as Phil said, the coach is not always the team's favorite person, and when the coach is your father the problem is only worsened.

Sports are not Phil's only concern at college. Phil said, "I take pride in going to class. I don't like to skip." In fact, Phil's best feeling in college came when he made a perfect score on Harlie White's calculus test. Phil is just as dedicated to his studies as he is in sports.

After graduation Phil plans to go to graduate school at Austin Peay, where he would like to be a graduate assistant for the basketball team. Phil would like to eventually work as the head coach at a major college. Phil realizes his goals are high, but he believes that he can reach them.

'57 Sweetheart Returns

Rosemary Craddock, the sweetheart of '57, has returned to Campbellsville College. Rosemary is here to fulfill a life-long dream; she is seeking her teaching certification. Rosemary is a junior majoring in K-4 education and minoring in art. She also spends many of her on-campus hours working in the Teaching/Learning Resource Center of Montgomery Library.

Even though Rosemary has been away from school for several years, one would be incorrect to think she has been idle. Rosemary has had various careers. She has been a substitute teacher, kindergarten teacher and a book-keeper. She has even owned her own business, Rosie's Kitchen. She sold baked specialty desserts, deli items, and offered catering services. Rosemary also spent much of her time raising her four sons:

Bill, Tim, Andrew and Scott.

How does Rosemary feel about college now? She said, "I'm having the time of my life." Since returning to college, Rosemary has accomplished many of her dreams. She played Maude Dunlap in "The Music Man." She has also been featured on the local television show, "What's Cooking Neighbor?" Rosemary is also pursuing her "little love of life" — painting. She has won several awards for her artwork, including second, third, and honorable mention in the Spring Art Show. She has also placed second in the collegiate division of the Green River Art Show.

After finishing college, Rosemary would like to teach elementary school. She would also like to write and illustrate a children's book. She would possibly entitle the book

"Grandma Goes to College."

Gone But Not Forgotten

"Put a baseball in his hand and he was happy," is how Coach Ron Finley described Rusty Hedrick.

Rusty was killed May 12 in an auto accident near his home in Owingsville. He is survived by his parents Russell Lee and Wanda Hedrick and two sisters.

Rusty had just completed his junior season for the baseball Tigers. The left-handed pitcher tied for the team lead with two victories while posting a 4.42 earned run average. He was majoring in physical education.

Rusty will long be remembered for his spirit and devotion to baseball. Coach Finley, Rusty's baseball coach, said "He thrived to pitch baseball — that's why he was here."

More Than A College Student

Being a Campbellsville College sophomore is hard work enough, but being a full-time student, mother, wife and business-woman is almost impossible.

Though it's a difficult job, Jenifer

King manages to be an honor student, wife, mother of four and operator of her own business, Jenifer's Hallmark.

Jenifer came to Campbellsville College as a certified computer programmer needing a bachelor's degree. She chose Campbellsville College for the programs it offered as well as for its convenience to home and work. She is majoring in both business administration and computer information systems. She hopes to get a job in the computer management field.

Jenifer's main concern about going back to school was with her two oldest sons, Justin and Brett. She says they were "affected harder by her decision, but adjusted well."

When asked how she handles school, work and family, Jenifer said, "It's stressful — it takes a lot of time and energy — everyone has to help in the house, everyone has to do their share of the work."

Jenifer does most of her studying at night after the children have gone to bed and the house is quiet. The youngest King children, Dallas and Tyler, often accompany their parents to classes. Jenifer's husband, Eric, is a student at the College as well. One could say that education is a family affair for the Kings.

Jenifer says that Campbellsville College has helped her "tremendously" with her work in computers. She credits her success as a student to the support she's received from her teachers and family.

Being a full-time student, mother, wife and business-woman is far from easy. It takes dedication and strength. Jenifer King has the dedication and strength she needs to succeed in all aspects of her life.

A Different Way of Life

Imagine swimming in a shining blue ocean every day and walking along a clean, white beach. Imagine pineapples, coconuts and mangos growing at your back door. And imagine living in a tropical warmth all the time and never having to think about snow and ice.

Betty Mwachiru, a 26-year-old freshman from Mombasa, Kenya, said she willingly gave all of that up to attend Campbellsville College.

She came to Campbellsville College for a better education and as an interpreter for the Kentucky-Kenyan Community Project.

"A couple with our group said at Campbellsville College could grow spiritually. It's been wonderful," she said.

"The United States school system is just too good," Miss Mwachiru said. "There are a lot of books, computers, and reference materials," she said. Educational materials, as well as education itself, is not readily available in Kenya.

"It's a big privilege to go to school in Kneya. A lot of people drop, because it's too expensive to go to school," she said.

"The higher you go in education, the smaller the number of students," said Miss Mwachiru. "We don't have a lot of high schools, and there are only five universities in Kenya." She said the colleges only accept those with very high grades, so academic achievement is very important.

Miss Mwachiru said that parents are responsible for the total amount of a high school student's education. "If you are coming from a poor family, it's very hard to go to secondary school," she said. In Kenya, if a student makes poor grades, he is simply pulled from school.

Miss Mwachiru was a high school teacher in her own country. At Campbellsville College she is majoring in business administration and minoring in computer information systems. She said knowledge of computers is in high demand in Kenya.

Miss Mwachiru has an overall plan to get a well-paying job when she graduates and returns to Kenya. She wants to help children who cannot afford to go to school. "It hurts me to see someone do well in school and then not be able to continue," she said.

Miss Mwachiru also likes the abundance of Christian churches in America. She said Kenya is three-fourths Moslem, with the other fourth being divided between Christians, Hindus and Buddhists.

Christian worship is also different in America, Miss Mwachiru said. "We clap our hands and dance. We participate rather than view," she said.

Miss Mwachiru said that although Kenyans do not have as many material goods as Americans, it's more of a communal life. "Life there is simpler.

There's no way you grow up thinking you have to have this," she said.

Although Miss Mwachiru admits to missing Kneya, she said she looks forward to getting to know Campbellsville and Kentucky.

Finley's Fighting Tigers Become More Competitive

Coming off a winless season, the Fighting Tiger Football Team "was still going to be young," but with the experience gained and a good recruiting year "we will be more competitive" said Head Coach Ron Finley.

Coach Finley wasn't wrong.

The 1989 edition of Tiger Football was indeed more competitive. The team created a "new excitement" by winning their first game with a come-from-behind victory over Evansville by a score of 20-16.

Highlights of the season were, of course, that first victory along with an exciting Homecoming game against Cumberland College when the Tigers lost in the last quarter by a score of 14-10.

The Tigers also had a come-from-behind tie with Kentucky Wesleyan, and their second victory over Tennessee Wesleyan.

Offensively, the Tigers were led by First Team All-Conference quarterback Mike Mason; leading rusher and premier running back Jeff Shirley; Second Team All-Conference splitend Ron Sams and offensive lineman Gary Weiter, Rob Williams and freshman standout Dan Gonzales.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by First Team All-Conference defensive tackle Joe Pangallo, Honorable Mention All-Conference linebacker Tad Barker, defensive and Gilbert Robbins, defensive back Herb Wiseman and linebacker Jim Sears.

Through the leadership of the coaches and the "family feeling" of the team, the Tigers' confidence grew, and, even though they ended the season with a 2-7-1 record, they were in every ball game and showed that they had arrived as a varsity program.

At the football banquet, numerous awards were presented to individuals. The individual awards were as follows: Defensive Lineman — Joe Pangallo; Defensive Secondary — Herb Wiseman; Outstanding Linebacker — Tad Barker; Outstanding Lineman — Dan Gonzales; Offensive Back — Jeff Shirley; Outstanding Receiver — Ron Sams; 110% Award — Mike Mason; Academic — Brad Baxter; Special Teams — Ayo Olaniyan; Coaches' Award — Steve Lovelace; Captains' Award — Jeff Shirley and Joe Pangallo and the Scout Team Award — Chris Mason.

TIGER BASKETBALL . . .

Best Since 1980-81

Campbellsville College's men's basketball team provided Coach Lou Cunningham with his best season since the 1980-81 Tigers captured the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) District 32 title.

Led by four seniors, Todd Armes, Phil Cunningham, Vernon Billups and Russ Newton, the Tigers finished with a 19-12 overall record.

The Tigers placed third in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) and advanced to the District 32 final four before losing to Georgetown College, who went on to the national semi-finals in Kansas City.

At the annual spring sports banquet, several individuals were honored for their performances. The award winners were as follows: Three-point field goal percentage — Shane Blevins 39%; two-point field goal percentage — Vernon Billups, 65%; Best Defense — Jerry Butler, who set a single season record with 104 steals; Free Throw percentage and Assist Award — Phil Cunningham 88%, who was tied 11th in the nation and averaged 7.3 assists which led the KIAC and District 32; and Rebounding Award — Todd Armes.

Todd Armes put together an outstanding senior year leading the Tigers in rebounding and scoring.

Armes was Most Valuable Player, two-time KIAC Player of the Week, three-time District 32 Player of the Week, National Player of the Week, KIAC Player of the Year, District 32 Player of the Year, 2nd Team All-American and is the all-time leading scorer at Campbellsville College with 770 points.

Head Coach Lou Cunningham was selected as KIAC and NAIA District 32 Coach of the Year for leading his fine ball club to a successful season.

LADY TIGERS

On the road TO JACKSON

The 1989-90 season had a storybook ending for the Lady Tigers.

The team capped an outstanding season with a trip to the NAIA National Tournament in Jackson, Tenn.

Campbellsville was picked number one in both the KIAC and the NAIA District 32 pre-season polls.

Donna Wise's Lady Tigers proved to be the "right choice" as they won championships in both.

Seniors, Jackie Prather and Ginger High, along with junior Becky Smith, were named to the KIAC and NAIA All-District 32 teams.

High was named Player of the Year in both as she dazzled teams all year with her flair for passing and penetrating.

She also set a school record with 865 assists and ranked number one nationally with career assists averaging 8.2 per game.

Coach Wise was named Coach of the Year in District 32. She is ranked among the top ten in winningest active NAIA basketball coaches with 276 wins.

IUPUI of Indianapolis lost to Campbellsville in the finals of their Metro Classic and returned for a rematch in the NAIA Bi-District 10 Finals.

Jackie Prather set a school record as she poured in 48 points in leading the Lady Tigers to a 96-80 win and Campbellsville's second trip to the women's national championship.

Jackson, Tenn. for the NAIA National Championship and a first round game with the number one tournament seed St. Ambrose, Iowa. Several hundred fans followed Campbellsville to see them play the Queen Bees who were ranked number one in the country and sported a 33-0 record.

The Lady Tigers led by as much as nine points in the half but the size differential proved costly. Ginger High showed why she was chosen to the Third Team All-American squad as she scored 35 points and handed out eight assists in an 83-97 loss. St. Ambrose lost to eventual NAIA Champion Southwestern Oklahoma.

Baseball Team is Young

The 1990 Campbellsville College Tiger Baseball team was young and learned a great deal this season.

Led by captain and senior Mike Ping, the Tigers completed the season with a record of 8-31-1. The Tigers provided for exciting home games while going through a rebuilding season.

The Tigers traveled to the Gulf Coast Classic in Panama City, Fla. during spring break. There they played a round robin tournament and were able to pick up three big wins. Head Coach Ron Finley was pleased with his ball club. He said, "The boys played hard all season, and the record didn't show the potential of the team."

The highlight of the season was a win over Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) rival Union College in which junior Max Rigsby pitched a no-hitter. Rigsby struck out 12 and walked four enroute to this superb performance by the Tigers.

At the spring sports banquet, Finley handed out individual awards. These awards were as follows: Best Hitting — Matt Allen; Earned Run Average — Shane Blevins; Runs Batted In — Gary Gettings; Academic Award — Jack Neely; Captain's Award and Golden Glove — Mike Ping, and Coaches' Award — Sean Matteoli.

Two of the Tigers were awarded All-District 32 honors. Sophomores Gary Gettings and Sean Matteoli were both selected to the All-District 32 Second Team.

The 1990 Campbellsville College men's tennis team finished in a fifth place tie in the District 32 Tennis Tournament.

The Tigers came out slowly losing their first two matches to Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC) rivals Cumberland College and Centre College.

The Tigers led by Kevin Merritt and Eric LaRue went on to capture the next five matches. The Tigers defeated Asbury College, Georgetown College, Transylvania University and beat arch rival Lindsey Wilson twice.

The highlight of the season was a 9-0 victory over Lindsey Wilson College.

At the Spring Awards Banquet, Greg Floyd received the sportsmanship award, while Eric LaRue, the number two singles winner in the KIAC with a 4-3 record, received the 110% award.

Kevin Merritt was selected MVP. Although Kevin was defeated in the semi-finals of the KIAC Tournament, he posted a 4-3 record at the number one single spot.

Both Merritt and LaRue received All-KIAC and All-District 32 honors while leading the Tigers to a fine season.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda, the business and economics chapter, won the most awards in the past six years at the Phi Beta Lambda State Leadership Conference in Louisville March 29-31.

The College chapter had five students to place in the top five and three who qualified for national competition. The chapter competed in over 20 individual, team and chapter events. Over 20 state universities, colleges and vocational technical schools from all over the state competed.

The top five state winners for the College chapter were Richard and Lesa Buckler, David Delk, Andy Wilson and Nikki True.

Three winners who will go to national competition in July are Richard and Lesa Buckler and David Delk.

This is the first year the PBL has two first-place winners and a husband and wife team going to nationals. Also, the chapter has been to the national competition three times in the last six years.

Shirley Risen, assistant professor of accounting and chapter advisor, said, "I am proud of this year's chapter." She said that the chapter is the largest chapter ever at Campbellsville College in membership and the most active chapter Campbellsville College has ever had. She said she wants the winning tradition to continue for the local chapter.

Mrs. Risen said the national competition awards the top 10 in each competition, and Campbellsville College has always had someone in the top 10.

She said she is especially proud of the "fine job" the chapter officers have done this year and of all the members who attended the state competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckler both won first places at the state conference. Buckler won for computer applications in business, and Mrs. Buckler won first place for Ms. Future Business Teacher.

Delk won second place in business law.

Wilson placed fourth in business law.

Miss True placed fifth in business communications.

Other students who competed and placed in areas in which they competed are: Rhonda Hord-Hansford, management and business decision making team; Les Chadwick, management; Becky Bottoms, accounting II and business decision making team; Gale Morgan, accounting II; Robin Emerson, Anthony Brown, Jenifer King, Melissa Graham and Kathy Bryant, parliamentary procedure team; Mrs. Bryan marketing; Mrs. King, computer concepts; Mrs. Graham, accounting I; Chris Schaklet, accounting I; David Gleisner, economics; Brad Baxter, business principles and Nancy Brock, marketing.

The National Leadership Conference July 6-9 in Washington, D.C. Over 40 states will be at the national competition. Each state sends the top two winners from each area of competition.

The Alpha Beta chapter was very active this year. They took a field trip to Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh, Penn. The Carnegie Museum houses the most extensive collection of dinosaurs from the Morrison Formation.

While attending the 1990 Sigma Zeta National Convention at Bethel College in St. Paul, Minn., they toured the Minneapolis Museum of Natural History at the Omnitheater. Christy Anderson was presented an honor award by the Alpha Beta chapter at the banquet on Friday night.

The club also ordered sweatshirts for their chapter.

Carpenter's Apprentice

Carpenter's Apprentice performed its home concert March 8 in the Alumni Building Theater. The music was a mixture from a cappella to accompanied music. The full ensemble performed the music of Glad, First Call and Sandi Patti.

Solo and smaller ensemble selections were also performed. They presented a song written by Don Schlosser called "Carpenter's Apprentice," dedicated to the group. Schlosser was a special guest for the evening, hearing this song for the first time since having written it.

Collegiate Chorale/Handbell Choir

Campbellsville College Collegiate Chorale and Handbell Choir took their talent on the road this spring as they performed in Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas.

The group kicked off their annual spring tour March 30 with a concert at Bowling Green High School, according to Dr. Kenneth Martin, assistant professor of music and director of the chorale.

They then went on to perform at eight churches and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

Martin said, "This is the first time we have toured west of the Mississippi River."

The chorale's repertoire included a broad selection of both sacred and secular music, said Martin. The handbell choir played music from several types of literature available for bells.

The group returned home April 7 and performed a home concert at Campbellsville Baptist Church April 10.

Martin coordinated the tour and is director of the chorale which is an auditioned chorus of 27 singers. The handbell choir, one of the premier ensembles of its type in the nation, is directed by Nevalyn Moore, instructor of music. The choir, consisting of 14 auditioned members, rings a four-octave set of bells.

Student accompanists for this year are Kathy Hardy Price and Yvonne Emerson. Others who share in accompanying responsibilities are Rick Wigginton, Marcina Clark and John Trout.

Rehearsal accompanists include Julie Anne Tinsley and Paula Donne Humphress. Mrs. Moore plays for selections requiring organ accompaniment.

Don Phillips, a 1970 graduate of the College, was represented during the tour by his "Canticle of Praise."

The chorale and handbell choir present concerts separately through the year and combine for a nine-day tour each spring. On recent tours, they have performed at Walt Disney World in Florida and at the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

Concert Chorus

The Concert Chorus presented its fall concert Dec. 5 in the Alumni Building Theater.

The chorus performed "Hymn of Praise, A Sacred Cantata" by Felix Mendelsohn. Dr. Jim Moore was director of the chorus. Kathy Price was accompanist for the group. Soloists included Peggy Argo, Chris Casey, Erin Dudgeon, Billy Gregory, Donna Rice, Steve Skaggs and Scott Pastore, minister of music at Lebanon Baptist Church.

The spring concert was the last program in the Nineteenth Century Music Festival. The concert, "The Holy City," was performed May 8. It was written by Alfred R. Gaul in 1882.

Dr. Jim Moore was the director of the chorus. Kathy Price was the pianist. Among the soloists and ensembles of the performance were: a quartet by Chris Casey, Julie Tinsley, Billy Gregory and Matt Wood, and a solo by Soprano Shauntina Morgan in the prologue Love Not the World.

In Part I Contemplation, Billy Gregory, tenor, sang My Soul Is Athirst for God, and a trio of Donna Rice, Alison Maynard and Jamie Sissel sang At Eventide It Shall Be Light, and mezzo-soprano Erin Dudgeon with Eye Hath Not Seen.

Performing in Part II Adoration were John Neikirk, baritone on A New Heaven and a New Earth, tenor John Miracle on To the Lord Our God, a duet of Alison Maynard and Erin Dudgeon on They Shall Hunger No More, and several students on List the Cherubic Host with a quartet of Donna Rice, Paula Humphress, Jamie Sissel, Julie Tinsley, John Neikirk and Chris Casey.

Jazz Band

The Jazz Band performed its annual fall concert Nov. 28. Material for the concert included selections from the Swing Era and a Christmas number.

Songs included: "I'll Be Home For Christmas" by Kim Gannon, Walter Kent and Buck Ram; "Do Nothin' Till You Hear From Me" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore," both by Duke Ellington; "Somewhere in the Night" by Will Jennings and Richard Kerr; "Maybe Next Time" by Lennis Niehaus; "Strike Up The Band" and "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin; "Good King Wenseslas" arranged by Sammy Nestico, and "Chops, Don't Fail Me Now!" by Cominic Spera.

Music Department Excels

The Campbellsville College music department has distinguished itself as a national leader.

In December, the College music program was one of three in the nation to receive accreditation from the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

Campbellsville College was one of 60 colleges in the nation which applied for the accreditation.

"This accreditation reinforces the fact that Campbellsville College does have an excellent music program and has been recognized by an agency that thoroughly examines music programs all over the United States," said Robert Gaddis, assistant professor of music and chairman of the fine arts division.

Also, Gaddis was nominated for Fourth District College Music Teacher of the Year by the Kentucky Music Educators Association.

The fourth district is comprised of about 18 counties. An outstanding teacher was selected from the elementary school, middle school, high school and college levels.

This is the second year in a row that a Campbellsville College music professor has been nominated to the honor. Dr. Mark Bradley, associate professor of music, was nominated last year.

In April, Gaddis was chosen president elect of the Kentucky Association of College Music Departments. He will serve as president for two years.

Gaddis presented a paper at the "1990 Graduate Music Education Forum" at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati, Ohio April 21.

His presentation was entitled "The Application of Dreyfus Taxonomy of Skills Acquisition to Musical Conducting."

Gaddis, who has been teaching at the College since 1982, is director of the College Jazz Band.

TV-4 Goes on the Air

The new year brought growth and new opportunity for both communications students and Campbellsville College as a whole.

In January Campbellsville College received a gift of WO4BP-Channel 4 TV, a television station in Campbellsville, from Heartland Communications Inc.

According to Dr. Ken Winters, president of the College, "This gift places Campbellsville College among a mere handful of colleges and universities throughout the country that operate their own television broadcast facility."

And, what could provide better experience for our students who will be preparing for careers in the television industry?

Winters said TV-4 "allows us to market our institution and communications program in light of real life and hands-on experiences ranging from gathering and reporting news, TV production, writing, programming, sales, on-camera broadcast time, etc."

While the College "continues local-interest programming," said Winters, "it also uses the facilities as a vehicle to produce and deliver academic courses and programs via local television broadcast and video presentations at the College's off-campus teaching centers."

The primary emphasis of the television station is educational, Winters said.

Winters also said that the College's board of trustees has approved the creation of a communications major for the College and agreed to hire additional staff where needed.

Ownership of the station by Campbellsville College was approved by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C. in April, and on April 21 the College's TV-4 went on the air for the first time!

CLOSING

Six hundred fifty copies of the 1990 Maple Trail, Volume 62, were printed by Taylor Publishing Company at the plant in Dallas, Texas.

This 8½x11 inch book has 144 pages printed on 80 lb. enamel paper. Smyth binding is used to attach the cover to the contents. The cover design, copied off a folder, was printed on lexotone material using the silkscreen process. The endsheets are foil stamped with the school mascot.

All body copy is set in 10 pt. Times Roman. Captions are set in 8 pt. type and photography credits are set in 6 pt. type. Headlines ranged from 30 to 60 pt. type.

Delmar Studios received the bid to do individual portraits; other photos came from the files of the Public Relations Office.

Thanks to all who made this book possible. Special thanks to Sylvia Morris, "Central Kentucky News-Journal," and Mr. Hugh Black for without their help this book would not have been possible.

Campbellsville College is a private, liberal arts, sciences and business institution affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention.
